TO THE FREE ELECTORS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS-BAY. vid pa. 36

Friends and Brethren in one common Cause,

THOUGH you may possibly, at some Time, be in a Degree bewildered by the Fog of that sophistical Mode of Writing, which is one striking Characteristick of the Friends of Government, yet a single Moment's Reflection upon FACTS will, I think restore to you the most just Feelings of your real Situation.

It is a Fact that our General Assembly, after having been kept inactive from the 5th of last July, is now prorogued to the 8th of April next. This is an unusual Length of Time, and therefore calls upon our Attention. For my own Part I have not the least Business suffering thereby. But, having endured much Injury from that wanton Conduct of BERNARD, in what I term the non-rescinding DISSOLUTION; and from his PROROGATIONS, the Exertions of a Power founded on the Letter but destructive of the Spirit of our Constitution; I am led to conjecture that many of you are under great Inconveniencies from the deliberate Conduct of his Successor, in his similar Exertions, tho' in the Dress of what is called his Majesty's Service. To that Conjecture I join something notorious. Your Representatives last July sent a Message to the Gentleman who holds the Chair of Government, expressive of their Desire that the Assembly might be called together the beginning of October, then coming, that they might have Opportunity to compleat an important Affair. Lo, the Answer!

"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I shall always consult his Majesty's Service as to the Time of meeting the General Assembly, and govern myself accordingly."

Now, my Friends and Brethren, what are your Feelings? His Majesty's Service and your private Interest may be distinct Things. But are you willing to allow a Distinction between his Majesty's Service and the publick Interest of this Province? Is that Distinction a harmless Thing, when cherished in the Breast of one Man, who has it in his Power to frustrate the latter, till HE shall please to own it consistent with the former?

I intreat you now to contemplate, consult and judge. If you can conclude such a Distinction to be any other than a darling Brat of a Plan for an independent Governor, you must have some Reasons which have not yet occurred to the honest Enquiry of vid pa 13 AN ELECTOR, 1772.

From the Public Ledger, London Nov 28, 1771.

IN the Irish House of Commons, Nov. 15th, Henry Flood, Esq; acquainted the House that he believed the Commissions were then made out for an addition of five more Commissions of the Revenue, and called upon the Law Officers and the Ministerial Members, of which there are unfortunately too great a number in that Country, to contradict him, if he was mistaken; to this they answered not a Word. He then made a Motion that the House would come to a Resolution to the following Purport, "That it appears to this House, that seven Commissioners of the Revenue are sufficient to transact the Business thereof."

Sir William Mayne seconded the Motion of his honorable friend, and shewed the impropriety and wonton cruelty of burthening the nation with the expence of new Offices and unnecessary Officers at a time when it was groaning under a heavy debt, and little likely to pay any of it. He said he should not be quite so tender as his friend, but would speak the truth, however disagreeable it might be to the Gentlemen on the other side of the House. That he was assured that a regular plan was laid down for enslaving this nation; that new Officers were created, to keep Men firm to the Court interest, by expectation of enjoying those places; that he did not doubt but each Commission had been promised to five or six different Gentlemen; but that he was certain the design was, after they had augmented the Board, then to garble it, and put in a number of Englishmen sent from the other side of the water to be a Check over the rest, and Spies on the Conduct of this Country. That in order that it might not seem an innovation to introduce a number of men from Great-Britain to our Revenue Board, one was appointed in the first Commission, and that one was no other than the detestable Sir FRANCIS BERNARD, late Governor of New-England, whose ignominious behaviour, and arbitrary tyrannick proceedings there, well nigh lost the affections of our American fellow subjects, and thereby hath rendered him a fit Tool to fetter the people of Ireland.

He added, that he was well informed that it was the intention of Government to prorogue the Parliament as soon as it had passed the Bill of Supplies. For as despicable as the Opposition might be thought by some people, it was still formidable enough to the British Ministry, who dare not meet the British Parliament, while such an opposition subsists in that of Ireland; for which reason the British Parliament is not to meet till the 21st of January, by which time Government thinks to do all its business here, and prorogue this Parliament.

The late celebrated Dr. Lucas did not die poor; he died immensely rich: rich in sentiment, spirit, and independence; rich in integrity and public esteem; rich in true dignity and honour; rich in every refined quality and ornament of the human mind; rich in a possession of the whole train of virtues; rich, manificently rich, even in the extreme of poverty. Living, he enjoyed a secret happiness unknown to the base and venal; and dying, (we will presume) felt "that sweet hope springing up in his soul," which, in the last fatal moment, every good man feels.

NEWPORT, February 29.

The forepart of last week an armed schooner (what schooner we know not) seized a small freight boat, with about ten or twelve hogsheads of rum, &c. on board, which were sent from East-Greenwich, in this colony, to be shipped from this place to Philadelphia, in order to purchase flour, bread, &c. and we are told that this Rum, &c. had been legally imported, and entered at our Custom House.——Also, we are assured, that on Thursday last, a boat going from this port to Prudence, in this Colony, but a few miles from hence, was seized by the same unknown schooner, only for having three hogsheads of molasses on board, which molasses was legally imported, and the duties paid last week:——These three hogsheads of molasses, we are told belonged to a poor man, who has now lost the full value of all he was worth under heaven!——Some say this p-r-t-c-l schooner belongs to K. G——the Th-d; but we should think it a little below his Br t-n-c Majesty to keep men of war employed in robbing some of the poorest subjects, who are scarcely able to procure the common necessaries of life; when those men of war might be so well employed, especially at this time, against Spain, who has insulted the Br-t-sh Flag in almost all parts of the globe, within these eighteen or twenty months past, and very lately in the West Indies (3) and Falkland-Island (4)——America take CARE of your PROPERTIES!! For, according to present appearances, you may soon expect to have your Fire-Wood SEIZED, if it be transported by water from one place to another without clearing and entering. The above schooner has a number of swivel and carriage guns. Since the above account was received, we are informed that his M-j-y's schooner Gaspee has been cruising in our rivers for near a week past; but for what intent we cannot learn, unless it be to meet, and manfully attack, those enemies who, have lately treated with contempt the whole English nation. BOSTON, March 9.

THE Committee appointed by this Town at their annual Meeting in March last, (6) to make Application to some suitable Gentleman to deliver an Oration on the Fifth Instant, upon the dangerous Tendency of Standing Armies, and in Commemoration of the horrid Massacre perpetrated by a Party of the 29th Regiment on the Evening of the Fifth of March 1770, having acquainted the Selectmen of the Town that they had apply'd to JOSEPH WARREN, Esq; and that he was ready to perform that Service for the Town: A Meeting was thereupon legally assembled by the Selectmen at Faneuil-Hall on Thursday last at Nine o'Clock in the Forenoon; when the Town unanimously voted their entire Approbation of the Choice the Committee had made, and appointed another Committee to wait upon Dr. Warren and acquaint him that it was the Desire of the Town that he would deliver the Oration in the Old South Meeting House at half past Twelve, at which Time and Place the Meeting was then adjourn'd. When the intermediate Time was expir'd, that capacious House was throng'd with a very respectable Assembly, consisting of the Inhabitants and many of the Clergy not only of this but the neighbouring Towns. The Orator had the universal Applause of his Audience; and his fellow Citizens voted him their Thanks, and requested a Copy of his Oration for the Press; which we hear has since been obtain'd.

In the Evening a select Number of the true Friends of Constitutional Liberty, met at Mrs. Clapham's in King-Street, and exhibited on the Balcony a Lanthorn of transparent Paintings, having, in Front, a lively Representation of the bloody Massacre which was perpetrated near that Spot.

Over which was inscribed,

"The fatal Effect of a standing Army, posted in a free City."

On the Right, was the Figure of America sitting in a Mourning Posture, and looking down on the Spectators, with this Label, "Behold, my SONS."

On the left Side, a Monument Inscrib'd,

"To the Memory of

Messrs. Samuel Gray,
Samuel Maverick,
James Caldwell,
Patrick Carr, and,
Crispus Attucks, who were barbarously murdered by a Party of the 29th Regiment, on the 5th of March 1770." [7]

At a Quarter after Nine, the Painting was taken in, and the Bells muffled toll'd 'till Ten.

The whole was conducted with the greatest Regularity; and the Spectators, though amounting in the Course of the Evening to some Thousands, behaved with that Gravity as well as Decency, which evidently show'd, that their Hearts were deeply affected with the Retrospect of so horrid a Transaction.

DIED.] Mrs. Ann Boylstone, aged 88 Years, Widow of the late Mr. Peter Boylstone.—Mr. Joseph Hill, Cooper.—Mr. Webb, Captain's Clerk of the Gibraltar Man of War.—Capt. PROVIDENCE, February 29.

Wedneſday laſt, the Wind blowing very hard at Weſt, a Sloop belonging to Middletown, Buckley, Maſter, homeward bound, was drove out of Connecticut River, both her Cables being parted by the Ice. The people were all on Shore, except the Mate and a Boy, who could not prevent her running on the Eaſt End of Saybrook Bar, where ſhe lay near an Hour, and then beat over. They afterwards made Sail, intending for Newport, and got ſafe round Point-Judah, when hauling their Wind to ſtretch in, the Jib-Sheet gave Way, and ſhe ran on Brenton's Reef, where ſhe beat off her Keel, and filled. The Wind continuing to blow hard, ſhe beat over the Reef in the Night, and ſtruck about 11 or 12 Rods from the Beach. The Mate held the Boy all Night in his Arms, wrapped in a Blanket, and in the Morning ſwam to Shore, leaving the Boy on the Quarter-Deck, who being much Froſt-bitten, died before any Aſſiſtance could be had. The Veſſel was loaded with Cocoa and Salt.

A few Days ſince, early in the Morning, a Negro Man, belonging to Mr. Thomas Cranſton, Merchant, of Newport, having had ſome Difference with a Negro Wench, his Wife, beat her very ſeverely, and ſat Fire in ſeveral Places to the Houſe of Mr. Ebenezer Malbone, Merchant, where ſhe lived.—He immediately afterwards ſat Fire to his Maſter's Still-Houſe, where was a large Quantity of Rum, and drowned himſelf in one of the Vats, firſt opening all the Scuttles.—The Fires were timely diſcovered, and extinguiſhed.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, Nov. 9.

THURSDAY after two o'clock, the Remains of the late Doctor Lucas, a citizen in Parliament for Dublin, were carried from his houſe in Henry-ſtreet, to St. Michen's Church, in the moſt ſolemn and grand manner, preceded and attended by the moſt numerous crowd of people ever known in this Kingdom. The coffin was covered with black velvet, and richly adorned with claſps and hinges of ſilver, double gilt. The pall had on it plumes of black feathers, and borders of eſcutcheons in black and white ſilk, with a cock in the centre being the Doctors creſt.

BOSTON, March 9.

A Letter from Dublin, says, "That Dr. Clement was elected to represent that City in Parliament, in the Room of Dr. Luca, deceased."

We hear the Honorable JAMES BOWDOIN, Esq; has generously offer'd to the Committee of Dr. Cooper's Congregation, the Donation of a large Lot of Land in Tremont-street, together with some Materials on it, for the Purpose of building a new Meeting-House. The Value of both is moderately computed at Seven hundred Pounds sterling. vid. pa. 33.

We hear the Glasgow Man of War which sailed from Portsmouth for this Place, having met with Damage, put back into some Port in the Channel to refit, and probably did not sail again until sometime in December or later.

We hear also that France is not in a State to engage in a War with Great-Britain, and that without the Assistance of France there is no Danger of a War with Spain: —That the Opposition in England is at an end, and the Kingdom in a more quiet and pacifick State than it has been for divers Years past. A Hum !!!

Letters are received by the last Packet, informing that JOHN TEMPLE, Esq; lately one of the American Board of Commissioners, is appointed Surveyor-General of His Majesty's Customs in England, with a Salary of 500 £. Sterling per Annum, and Forty Shillings per Day for defraying the Expences of Travelling.

Wednesday arrived the Halifax armed Schooner from Halifax. We hear a Brig belonging to Casco-Bay is arrived at Halifax in 31 Days from Liverpool; but we hear of no News by her. A Ship sailed from Liverpool for Halifax last September, as she is not arrived, it is probable the Ship blown off and got into St. Kitts, mentioned in our last as bound to Boston, was the said Ship.

Capt. Wier from Philadelphia bound to Newbury Port, put in here last Tuesday, by him we learn that Capt. Doubleday in a Brig from Cape Nichola for this Place, had got into the River Delaware, his Vessel having sprung a leak.

We hear from Liverpool, in Nova-Scotia, of the following singular unhappy occurrence. A Number of School-boys, for their Amusement, in the Absence of their Master, formed themselves into what they called a Court; and immediately exercised their Authority in the Trial of a Boy for wearing remarkable ragged Cloaths, who was first sentenced to be whipped: But as this Punishment was said to be inadequate to the Crime, they ordered a second Trial, before what they called the Superior Court; when he was sentenced to be hanged. They made Preparation for the Execution, set him upon a Table, with a rope about his Neck, one End of which was made fast to something above; when, pulling away the Table, he was left hanging; and before they could cut him down, he was dead. It is supposed they were not aware how quick he would die, and intended to cut him down before he received any injury. A number of them were committed to Goal.

We are informed, that great Improvement hath lately been made in the Method of illuminating Light-Houses, by an Invention of the Hon. HENRY NEWTON, Esq; of Halifax, Nova-Scotia.—In the former Method, the Oyl decreasing left the Wick dry, which of Course occasioned a faint Light; the Smoke also darken'd the Glasses, and obscured the Light: To remedy which, Fountain Lamps are constructed that burn 20 Hours without any seeming Decrease of Oyl; by which Means the Wick has the Oyl floating constantly to it, and wants no Snuffing (at most, but once in a Night) and is so contrived, that the Waste Oyl falls back into the Fountain. And to keep the Glasses clean, Tin Funnels, somewhat in the Shape of Speaking Trumpets, hang over each Lamp, and pass thro' the Roof of the Lanthorn, with rais'd Caps of Tin upon them, to prevent Rain or Snow falling down. By this Means the Attendant at the Light House has only to light the Lamps in the Evening, and they burn bright all Night; whereas formerly, the Lamps wanted to be supplied two or three Times in a Night, and snuffed every Hour; and the Glass could not possibly be kept clean from Smoke——Each Lamp has three Spouts which run into a Bason at the Bottom of the Fountain, and thereby keep the Oyl so warm, that it never chills while they are burning.——Another advantage is, that they burn a less Quantity of Oyl than the others.—The Halifax LIGHT-HOUSE is lately alter'd upon the above Plan, and is now acknowledged by all Masters of Vessels, to exhibit a remarkably bright and constant Light.
